Start Wardens' School Tonight; 150 Will Attend

Township Needs 98 Air Wardens and 40 Fire Watchers

Over 150 Antioch township citizens, both men and women, are expected to be in attendance tonight at the Antioch High school where the school for air raid wardens gets under way with the first of five lessons.

The course will consist of five lessons of three hours each. Those who complete the 15-hour course and wish to qualify for wardens will be required to have ten hours of training in first aid work, and a school for this purpose will be conducted concurrently with the air raid wardens' school. A qualified instructor or instructors from the Antioch Rescue squad will be in charge. Those who have had first aid training within the last three years will not be required to take this course.

Chief air raid warden for the township, Roman Vos, will be in charge of the registration and will explain the nature of the work and need for the special instructions during the first hour of the course, which will start at 8 p. m.

Also addressing the group will be Virgil Newlin, lay instructor, who will explain the plan of organization of civilian defense.

Three Groups
The instruction proper will be given by three instructors to three groups. Fred J. Berg, who qualified as chief instructor at the state warden school at Jacksonville last June, will talk on incendiary bombs and fire control. Prin. R. E. Clabaugh will give instructions to his group as to the making of reports, equipment and knowledge of the area, while Newlin will talk on blackouts and protective concealment. Although Chief Warden Vos has already perfected warden organization in the township through dividing the area into 17 zones and appointment of the senior wardens, there is still need for 98 junior wardens and 40 fire watchers. The purpose of the school is to train men and women for these positions, Vos said.

Antioch Legion Lends a Hand To Service Men

The annual dues of Legion men now in service will be paid by the local post by funds raised through the Legion's "war chest," known as the "Boys in Service Fund." It was voted at the meeting of the group on Friday night. Dues for the Sons of Legion will also be paid in the same manner, Legionnaires said.

The local post is preparing a holiday letter which will be sent to all boys of the community who are in the service of their country, and a substantial P. O. money order will be enclosed, which the Legion men say will come from the citizens of the community through the "boys in service" fund.

Launch Membership Drive
An important order of business with the new 1943 officers at the present time is getting the membership renewals in. Thus far the officers are well pleased with the 35 paid-up within the last few days. The local post tries to get as many members paid up by Armistice day as possible.

The national Legion convention held last week went on record as favoring an amendment to their constitution enabling the Legion to accept as members the boys now in service following their honorable discharge from military duty. The local post members are in accord with that recommendation.

Dates of October meetings will be changed to permit many Legionnaires to attend the five weeks course in national defense work here which starts tonight and will cover air raid warden service, first aid, fire prevention and other work in the local defense program.

Mrs. Clara Willett accompanied her son, Frank H. Willett, to St. Paul, Minn., Monday, Sept. 14, where he will be in training with the Enlisted Corps of the army, for assignment to active duty with the field artillery, for liaison pilot. Mrs. Willett also visited friends at Winnebago, Minn., returning home Sunday.

Mrs. Irving Elms, president of the High School P. T. A. will attend a P. T. A. meeting at the Chicago Public Library today (Thursday).

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

A scout car is a low-slung motor car armored with heavy steel plate, used to transport troops from one point to another. It is of low silhouette and gives protection against machine gun and other ground fire. A scout car costs $5,000.

You and your neighbors joining together can buy one of these vehicles for the Ordnance Department of our army with your purchase of War Bonds. We need hundreds of them and need them quickly. Put at least ten percent of your wages or income into War Bonds every pay day and help your fellow Americans top the War Bond quota in your county.

Antioch Doctors Are Called For Army Service

Dr. A. P. Bratrude Enters Service Today; Dr. A. N. Berke Awaits Call

Calls for medical aid for the army and navy are fast thinning the ranks of Antioch and Lake county physicians, yet official pronouncement from Washington indicates that no community will be left without adequate medical service.

Dr. A. P. Bratrude was received today into the army medical corps at Little Rock, Arkansas. For the past several weeks he and Dr. D. N. Deering have been assisting with the examination of selectees at Fort Sheridan. Dr. Bratrude closed his office here and left Monday for St. Louis in company with S. Boyer Nelson, Antioch realtor, to spend a few days with friends and relatives before the doctor entered service today.

Dr. A. N. Berke also is a prospect for early service with the army. He is now awaiting call which is expected to come within the next thirty days. His assistant, Dr. Earl Berger entered service two weeks ago, and in his stead Dr. L. L. Breakstone of Chicago is now assistant to Dr. Berke.

Also awaiting call is Dr. D. N. Deering who prefers the navy as his field for service with the medical corps. He has had his physical examination and may receive his commission in the very near future.

In the event both Dr. Berke and Dr. Deering are called Antioch will be left with but two physicians, Dr. R. D. Williams, who is above military age, and Dr. Breakstone, and Dr. W. A. Biron, chiropractor.

Stearns Gets Evidence Against Two Arsonists

Information that has led to the indictment of an arsonist in Kane county and another in McHenry county was produced recently by James Stearns, deputy state fire marshal. James Scott, Kane county farm youth, who confessed setting fire to two barns on farms which adjoin his father's property and then helping extinguish the flames, was indicted on two charges of arson by the Kane county grand jury. He entered a plea of not guilty. The fires which Scott admitted starting destroyed barns and other buildings on the Ray W. Smith and Fred W. Middleton farms in Burlington township on July 28 and 30.

Woman Held at Woodstock
Mrs. Julia Dombraski was held to the McHenry county grand jury on bonds of $2,500 after she was charged with arson in the burning of the barn on the Dombraski farm last Saturday night. She was released from custody when her daughter furnished bond. Deputy Stearns aided in the investigation that resulted in her arrest.

Mrs. Dora Sabin and Mrs. Maud Sabin entertained the Past Matrons club at the home of Mrs. Dora Sabin last Thursday evening. Prize winners in bridge were Mrs. Julia Rosenfeldt, Miss Grace Drom and Mrs. Eleanor Micheli.

Mrs. Ed Mutz of Trevor will enter one five gaited and one three gaited saddle horse at the horse show at the Milwaukee State Fair grounds on Saturday and Sunday.

Plans Complete For "Fly For Navy" Meeting Monday

Lions and Am. Legion Are Joint Sponsors of Program

Arrangements are completed for the jointly-sponsored public meeting to be held in St. Ignace's Guild hall Monday night in the interests of the nation wide "Fly for Navy" program. Local sponsors of the Antioch meeting are the Antioch Lions club and the local American Legion post.

Active in securing features, including speakers and motion pictures for the program is John Guthrie, Navy man of the first world war, and W. R. Bland, bomb reconnaissance agent, who with Paul King, Lake County Civil Defense Co-ordinator, has just spent two days at a special school session held in the American Legion home in Peoria.

Acting for the Legion in making plans for the meeting is Past Commander Roman B. Vos of the Legion, and serving for the Lions club is Past President Robert King.

The Lions dinner will be served at 7 p. m. and at 8:30 o'clock the open meeting starts. The public is invited to attend.

With Illinois Navy air cadets leading the way, this area's intensive "Fly for Navy" drive moves into its second and last month with a record 830 flying officer candidates "signed on" during the first 31 days of the special effort. This number is almost equal to the total of 927 cadets enlisted in all of 1941.

Although slightly under the pace necessary to reach the drive's goal of 2,000 cadets, the August record of enlistments is considered encouraging by the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection board in Chicago. The mark sets the stage for a big surge of youths this month, when the real effects of "Fly for Navy" are expected to be felt.

"It looks as though we're going to make a hard-driving finish," comments Lieut. Comdr. Carl G. Olson, senior member of the Cadet Board, as he looked over the August figures, "but I know we can do it. The young men of this region haven't let us down yet—and I don't believe they will now."

Every area in the four states included in the territory of the Board that is participating in "Fly for Navy" is organizing its own special squadron of Naval air cadets. A record number—over forty—of these units is being formed for the convenience of cadets enlisting as part of the drive and desiring to enter flight training with fellows from their own city or community.

Illinois citizens have responded generously to the "Fly for Navy" drive with the 100-member First World War Naval Aviators' leading the way in the Chicago area. This patriotic civilian organization has been directly responsible for the formation of thirteen "Chicago's own" squadrons. Highlights of the group's first month's recruiting was the induction of 220 "Fly for Navy" cadets as a feature of the Chicago Music Festival in Soldier Field on August 15.

Other squadrons organized in the wake of the "Fly for Navy" drive in northern Illinois include the "Blackhawk Thunderbirds" of Rockford, Waukegan and Freeport, special units in each of Chicago's north shore suburbs, "Joliet's own," and an Elgin group.

A two-week visit of the Navy flight trainer—which gives each candidate for Navy flying cadetship a free flying test—has been arranged for the first days of September. Ten northern Illinois cities are included in the itinerary of the trainer, which feels, maneuvers and looks like a real airship, but is moored safely on the ground.

In cautioning every prospective cadet in Illinois to make his application to "Fly for Navy" with his own special squadron early, Comdr. Olson reminded qualified young men that "in the Navy," every aviation cadet gets pilot training.

High school graduates who are unmarried and 18 through 26 years are eligible to apply for flight training in their own special squadron. Application may be filed either with members of special local "Fly for Navy" civilian committees, at the nearest Navy recruiting station, or at the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board, 141 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago.

October 6 is Last Day for Registration

All Citizens Must Register to Vote in Election on November 3

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 24—Governor Dwight H. Green today issued a warning to all citizens of Illinois that they cannot vote in the election Nov. 3 on the constitutional amendment to take the sales tax off food unless they are properly registered.

"It is important that all persons otherwise qualified to vote be registered by October 6," Governor Green said. "Otherwise, they will not be able to vote in the November 3 election when the constitutional amendment to take the sales tax off food is submitted. This amendment must receive the affirmative votes of a majority of the voters going to the polls if it is to be adopted. A mere majority of those voting on the amendment is not enough. If a voter fails to vote on the amendment he is, in effect, voting against it."

"Many citizens have failed to register. There is one more registration day in the polling place of each voting precinct, October 6, but I urge men and women not to wait for that date. They should go to the office of the county clerk at the earliest possible opportunity and register there. This can be done any day until October 6. "The election of November 3 is particularly important because of the increased burdens and responsibilities placed upon public officials by the war. Every citizen should vote in this election. To do so he must be registered."

$53,616 Held In Escrow For Duesing Heirs

Pub. Administrator in Final Acct.; War Blocks Cash for German Heirs

Despite the fact that a hearing on final account in the estate of Robert H. Duesing, Wilmet village eccentric who died in the spring of 1939, was scheduled before Probate Judge R. V. Baker today, Public Administrator Chris Juliani was still asking the $53,616 question of what to do with that amount of cash now being held in escrow for Duesing's heirs.

The heirs, eight cousins of the deceased Wilmet village inventor, all residents of Nazi Germany at the time of his death must await the end of the war and the executive order that froze all Axis alien assets in the United States for the duration. In the meantime, Public Administrator Juliani was scheduled, under a special license from the treasury department, to render his final accounting of the estate before Judge Baker today. The final account, according to Juliani will disclose disbursements from the estate which at the time of Duesing's death was estimated at a total of nearly $82,000.

Contestant States Reasons for Upset in Croquet Tournament

The favorites in the croquet tournament, which is in progress at Dick Moran's Fairway Grill, were finally upset for the first time on Tuesday evening.

It took a combination of George Schlosser, Walt Darnaby, and Joe Panowski to accomplish the feat. Joe Panowski played a remarkable game, winning for himself the undisputed championship in sideline kibitzing and heckling.

"Congratulations, Joe! We are sorry you couldn't have coached your own team as well, and maybe you wouldn't have finished in the cellar!" That is what Moran and Murphy had to say for Joe's wonderful exhibition. With only a few games remaining, it looks like Schlosser and Darnaby should win the tournament, as they have finished their schedule with eight wins and four losses. However, Panham and Fields, or Murphy and Moran could still tie them by winning all of the remaining four games.

"Mighty Will Be Our Plowshares"

"Today we produce to destroy, but tomorrow we will produce to build." These were the words of Dr. Charles M. A. Stine at a recent meeting of the American Chemical Society as he described the new vistas to be opened to America after this war is won.

In a thousand and one chemical laboratories throughout America chemists are discovering new continents of matter at such a rapid pace under the pressure of war that "the world of 1940 has already become an antiquity," he said.

"The inconceivables of only two years ago are today's realities. The war is compressing into the space of months developments which might have taken a half a century to realize if necessity had not forced the pace.

"These pressures are unprecedented. The developments are unprecedented. Give us a victorious peace and the freedom of enterprise it should guarantee, and our progress will be unprecedented. Let our swords be mighty and mighty indeed will be our plowshares."

9 Million Axis Man-Hours

Stating that American war production has been increased by 350 per cent since Pearl Harbor, Donald M. Nelson, Chairman of the War Production Board, recently told some 50,000 workers of Camden, N. J., that "the fighters with the best industrial system behind them will win this war."

"The United States, which means every one of us," Mr. Nelson said, "is engaged in a fight to the death against the Axis powers. There is no place for Americans in Japan's 'co-prosperity sphere.' There is no place for Americans in Hitler's 'new order.' For us there must be economic, political, religious and personal slavery."

Every U. S. citizen recognizes the truth in those words. Every loyal American knows that anything that stands in the way of maximum effort on the part of everyone—particularly war workers—is a threat to our country and our very existence.

Yet, the number of strikes in our war industries has been mounting steadily since Pearl Harbor. Twenty-seven in January, fifty in February, sixty-six in March, ninety-one in April, one hundred forty-four in May, one hundred and ninety-two in June, and two hundred twenty-two in July.

During all these months, when everyone should have been doing everything possible to produce to the maximum of his ability, over eighty thousand men were involved in strikes and more than nine million valuable man-hours were lost to our war production program.

Up to the Government

As times goes by, the commodity price problem becomes more acute. It is clear that our present methods of price control are inadequate, and that the inflationary trend grows steadily stronger.

According to reports, a good many consumers are making the mistake of blaming this on retail merchandising. They are accusing merchants of profiteering at their expense. And that indicates a complete misunderstanding of the facts at issue.

High officials in the office of Price Administration have publicly praised retail merchandising for the co-operation it has given the price control policy. Only a handful of cases where merchants deliberately sought to violate the rulings, have been unearthed. Both the chain systems and the independent stores have, as a general rule, reduced their margins of profit to the lowest level. And it should not be forgotten that, long before the price order was imposed, a large percentage of America's retail merchants voluntarily cut their profits in order to protect the living standards of the consumer.

The reasons why price control is failing are many and various. Certain important labor groups have demanded and received abnormal war wage increases—and that is a big item in production costs. Farm labor now receives the highest wages in history. The tax burden has already reached record levels, and will go higher. And, in the long run, the consumer must pay for all of this. The problem is now in the hands of the government—not the retailers.

High Egg Production While Prices Are Good

Suggestions Given for Improved Pullet Flocks

By H. H. ALP
(Extension Poultryman, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.)

In times of good prices one is not likely to think in terms of losing money, certainly not so much as when prices are low. There is a great deal more at stake, however, when prices are high, or favorable to the producer. If low egg production exists then, the loss is actually

Courtesy U. S. Department of Agriculture

It is a simile of Victory this young miss has. For with the eggs from her own chickens for consumption here, and abroad where they are sent in powdered form, the necessary energy to carry on the great fight against the enemy is being partly supplied.

greater than it would be if egg production were low during a period of poor prices.

For good egg production at this season of the year, the pullet flock should have:

1. A poultry house which provides four square feet of floor space for each bird.
2. Some form of insulation in the house.
3. A good ration in small feeders, which are freshly filled every day, or at least every other day.
4. Two water containers in a room approximately 20 by 20 feet.
5. A ration featuring some form of milk, whole oats, a good grade of alfalfa, and a vitamin-D oil.
6. A supplemental feeding of moist mash once a day, if necessary. This practice is not essential for all flocks, but in the case of flocks "going stale" or losing weight, and for late, immature pullets.
7. Lights if necessary. Lights might be used in the same situations in which moist mash feeding is suitable. A successful practice has been to use two 10-watt lamps all night in a room 20 by 20 feet.
8. Fresh litter to keep up the spirits of the flock and for the maintenance of health.
9. Regular attention; irregularity plays havoc with egg production.
10. The benefit of some good common sense. It is not bought in bottles and bags.

AGRICULTURE INDUSTRY

Peat Moss

By FLORENCE WEED

Peat miners, you might call them, those farmers who are lucky enough to find a bed of peat located on their land. Domestic peat is needed now to supplement the reduced supply being imported from Europe.

Most of the beds in this country are located in northern states: Maine, New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ohio and northern Washington.

Moss, sedge and reed peat are considered safe as a fertilizer for gardens and golf course greens. Other kinds which have no acid reaction and are not chemically adapted to combination with soil are found useful as insulating material, as stable litter, and as an absorbent layer for poultry houses in winter. Peat dust is found to be an effective deodorizer. Peat can be used as a substitute for medicated cotton in the making of surgical dressings. It has been used in the making of paper.

Peat mining is not a difficult job. The peat is first ripped up from the earth, shredded in a machine, pressed or dried to get rid of excess moisture, then cleaned and sacked. For some uses, the peat is pulverized to powder. All of these are farm operations that can be done by one man.

Agricultural Notes

Wet mash has been used from the beginning of the poultry industry to encourage the birds to eat more, and to increase or maintain production.

The U. S. department of agriculture has recommended to war emergency officials that increased amounts of dairy equipment be made available to farmers in 1942.

Practical Trio

For gardening, tennis, cycling or what-have-you in the way of hard work or sports, here is the ideal outfit. Overall shorts of blue cotton denim, with a calico print blouse and a wrap-around skirt, are ready to meet every demand. It's the type of clothes everybody's calling for now that there's work to be done, something dependably washable, chic and becoming, and attuned to all occasions, whether they be work or play. This outfit will hold good "for the duration."

His Tire Stolen, Nebs

Culprit and Gets Reward

NORFOLK, VA.—E. R. Anderson, a merchant of Dolphin, Va., by his own detective work, recovered a tire stolen from his car, brought about the arrest and conviction of the thief, and to cap it off, collected a $25 reward for the job.

The Tidewater Automobile association received a letter recently from Emory Elmore, clerk of Brunswick county, relating that on April 1 a tire was stolen off a car belonging to Anderson. Some days later Anderson recognized the tire by its serial number, which at that time graced the left wheel of a car belonging to one Farley Fields.

Fields was arrested, indicted on April 20, tried the next day, and found guilty; he was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

The TAA, which pays rewards for the recovery of property stolen from its members, sent Anderson a check.

Helps Give Variety To Work Costumes

In planning and designing practical clothes for the thousands of women now engaged in wartime factory work, every effort is being made to avoid regimentation or suggestion of monotonous uniforms. Thus, much importance is attached to color, as it offers variety and cheer.

Necessarily certain requirements must be observed in behalf of safety. For instance, most factories stipulate that women and girls wear slacks or coveralls or jumper slacks carefully styled so that nothing will catch in the machinery. Covering for the head is required to keep the hair protected. Dresses are out of the picture, with a ban on cubicles or skirts. Banned also are toe-less or heel-less shoes and long finger-nails. Blouses must be simple, so that no frilly details get caught in the machinery, but they may be, and are, very colorful.

Quilted Fashions

Enthusiasm for things quilted extends to every phase of fashion. Quilting as designers are employing it gives novelty to hats, will give warmth to coats this fall by bright colored quilted linings, is used for large flat pockets and offers clever novelty ensembles which include hat, bag and jacket sets.

For Trimming

There will be a generous use of embroidery this fall and also of applique design. And again designers are lavishing fringe on dressy frocks in unique and attractive ways.

Man Robbed of Toe, $400

And Ring in Second Try

LONG BEACH, CALIF.—Robbers, who a month ago injured one of Nicholas Periseck's fingers so badly in trying to remove a ring that the finger had to be amputated, robbed him again and cut off one of his toes.

Periseck sold in the first holdup the robbers took $75 and tried to cut off his finger when his $750 diamond ring proved too tight to slip off.

Later they not only got the ring, from another finger, but found $400 he had hidden in a shoe. Then the robber leader cut off his toe.

"You told the cops about that other job," Periseck quoted him. "We'll give you something to remember us by."

If you need a Car
you need a BUICK

...and if you really need a new car for essential work — you can get one!

AUTOMOBILE-BUYING regulations boil down to this:

If you really need a car—you can get one.

Necessity governs — and when necessary work can be done better by replacing an older car with a new one, both rationing rules and public policy encourage the buying of safer, more efficient, more dependable new models.

Get a car you can count on—get a car that will last—get a car that's tough and rugged and efficient enough to take long, tough punishment and come back for more.

This 1942 Buick is a car built from the ground up with the idea that it would have to serve, faithfully and well, over a far longer-than-usual service life.

Its Buick FIREBALL valve-in-head straight-eight power plant is a basically more efficient engine, designed to get the last bit of usable power and mileage from gasoline.

So if you need a car you need a Buick. Talk your situation over with your Buick dealer, and look at the models he can deliver at once from his large and complete stocks—even though the Buick factories have for many months been on all-out war production.

Better
Buy
Buick

IF YOU ARE INCLUDED IN THIS LIST, YOU'RE ELIGIBLE TO BUY

There are seven major classifications for persons eligible to buy new cars under basic rationing rules.

These include: (1) persons engaged in the production of war materials or the prosecution of the war, directly or indirectly; (2) physicians, nurses, clergymen, veterinarians; (3) co-owners engaged in public service, such as fire departments, public health, highway maintenance, etc.; (4) owners of taxicabs and other means of transportation; (5) farmers; (6) newspaper wholesalers; and (7) traveling salesmen in certain fields.

Your Buick dealer will be very glad to help you determine whether you come under the rules of eligibility. He will also be glad to help you fill out the proper applications.

Baha'i ActivitiesTHOUGHT FOR THE WEEK
Contributed by the Baha'i Group
Radio Talk Given over WAIT,
Sept. 13

Baha'i is the name of the world faith which in less than one hundred years has spread to sixty countries, translated its sacred literature into forty-two languages, and brought into spiritual fellowship a host of persons who had been estranged by prejudice of race, class and creed. It is a point of unity, a center of agreement, a basis of reconciliation for the diverse peoples of mankind.

The word "Baha'i" means glory. A Baha'i is one who accepts the faith founded by Baha'u'llah, whose name means Glory of God. His faith brings a mighty renewal of hope in the triumph of righteousness on earth; it quickens the spirit of understanding which binds the soul to God; it offers a source of pure and undefiled spiritual knowledge; it rekindles the flame of devotion and love which are the true happiness of man.

When you hear or see the name Baha'i, think of it as a sign-post pointing you along the safe highway leading through the turmoil, the suffering, the chaos and the upheavals of this day to the haven of certitude and peace. The Baha'i faith offers each of us a glorious gift—perfect trust in the fulfillment of the Creator's promise to mankind. Have we turned away from that promise as an illusion of the childhood of the human race? Have we abandoned even the idea of a Divine promise as a superstition which will not endure the test of modern science? Have we lost hope in the coming of justice because creeds and sects have disagreed? Do we feel discouraged because strife, prejudice and materialism have so far brought every mighty people and proud civilization to eclipse?

There is a clear Baha'i answer to these arguments of doubt and unbelief. It is that for every Divine promise there has been a time and also a way of fulfillment. To attain to assurance of this supreme spiritual mystery is the greatest privilege bestowed upon human beings. The time is whenever the Holy Prophet and Messenger, comes to earth, age after age, to revive faith, restore the Divine Law, and to enlarge the foundation of civilization. The way is through the living spirit of faith, sacrifice, unity and understanding which He inspires among men. From earliest times, revealed religion has demonstrated the validity of God's promise, for through its power, and its power alone, has civilization been re-created out of wreckage and destruction.

"Every one of them," says Baha'u'llah of the Prophets, "is the way of God that connecteth this world with the realms above, and the Standard of God's Truth unto every one in the kingdoms of earth and heaven. They are the Manifestations of God amidst men, the evidences of His truth, and the signs of His glory." The Baha'i teachings declare, "The fundamental purpose animating the Faith of God and His Religion is to safeguard the interests and promote the unity of the human race and to foster the spirit of love and fellowship amongst men. There can be no doubt whatever that the peoples of the world, of whatever race or religion derive their inspiration from one heavenly Source, and are the subjects of one God."

Our very time, the Baha'i believes, is the Promised Day of the gathering together of the long-scattered peoples and their welding together, in the faith, one mankind. Our world-wide suffering is the outer sign that the limitations of the past, the separations, the prejudices, are one by one being overthrown by the force of the truth that man is one. "The whole human race hath longed for this Day," Baha'u'llah has said, "that perchance it may fulfil that which well becometh its station, and is worthy of its destiny."

Footprints nine inches wide and several feet apart, found again in the Himalayas, have revived native legends about the "Himalayan giant."

The Phantom City
In the days of long ago, when the Spanish galleons were being plundered by the bold adventurers who sailed out upon the seas, stories were told of a city whose houses were roofed with gold, in the region east of the great Orinoco river. The legends fired the imaginations of men and sent them to search for this fabulous "golden land" and the phantom city of Manoa.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

JOSEPH: AN EXAMPLE OF FORGIVENESS

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 45:1-15; 47:11, 12.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.—Ephesians 4:32.

Forgiveness, opening the way for the restoration of fellowship and the showing of kindness, brought the story of Joseph and his brethren to a happy ending. Under the good hand of God the story which began with tragedy is brought to a conclusion of blessing.

Following the earnest plea of Judah, the heart of Joseph could no longer withhold itself from the full expression of affection and devotion to his family.

I. Love Overcomes Fear (vv. 1-4).

Joseph tenderly shielded the family troubles from the eyes and ears of strangers by sending out the Egyptians. It was the first step of consideration which paved the way for reconciliation. How often just the opposite is done—airing family affairs before the world, and humiliating those who may be in the wrong, thus making it difficult for them to admit their guilt.

Then, too, this was a moment too tender and delicate to be seen by outsiders. The tears of a strong man like Joseph mean a deep movement of spirit—a solemn and often a sacred moment.

It should also be noted that the brothers were afraid, and well they might be, because of their sin against Joseph. After almost 50 years these unrepentant men found themselves face to face with the one whom they had supposed they had disposed of, and they knew their sin had found them out. It always does, sooner or later, but inevitably.

How great and noble was the forgiving love of Joseph; an example to us, especially appropriate and needed in a world of hate and bitterness.

II. Grace Overrides Sin (vv. 5-3).

The guilt of these men was none the less and Joseph could not remove it, but he encouraged them by showing how God had used their evil devices to work out His own good pleasure. He can make the wrath of man to praise Him (Ps. 76:10).

It is worth stressing again that in the very hour when the prospects for Joseph's future usefulness seemed ruined, God was opening the door to the greatest experiences of his life and was preparing him to serve the thousands whose lives were saved by his wisdom and ability in the years of famine.

Nothing is more important in the life of a child of God than to be yielded to His will, unmoved by circumstances, abiding His time, responding to His guidance whether it be by the opening or closing of doors, prosperity or adversity. And herein is the marvel of it all—even sin may be overruled by God's grace for His own glory. That does not invite anyone to sin that grace may abound (Rom. 6:1, 2), but it does offer encouragement to the one who has fallen, that God can redeem the years that the leucist have eaten (Joel 2:25).

Our lesson also sets us an example of how true forgiveness acts; something we need. So often when forgiveness is asked or granted there is an "I can forgive but I can't forget" attitude, which means that while hostilities have ceased, at least temporarily, there is no real friendship or the disposition to show kindness. Is there any real forgiveness at all in such an attitude of heart and mind? We fear not.

III. Kindness Provides the Best

(vv. 9-15; 47:11, 12).

It might have been enough to feed food and a kind greeting with the brothers to their own land, but here does not seek the minimum expression of his feeling. It asks not how little, but how much can I give or do.

Bringing his aged father and brothers into the land of plenty was not enough, Joseph also gave to them the "best of the land" (47:11). His thoughtful consideration in sending for his father (Gen. 46:7) was part of the same piece of kindness.

Joseph puts to shame the modern "hard-boiled" attitude toward needy and aged members of the family. In their eager and relentless pursuit of fame or riches, many ignore or trample upon the members of their own families. Often they are ashamed of the broken bodies, the humble apparel, the broken or uneducated speech of their parents. They fear lest their new-found friends in the circle of wealth and supposed "position" will think them strange or ridiculous. God pity the man or woman who is ashamed of a humble or aged father and mother!

Joseph, who really had an exalted position gained by merit and by the blessing of God, never forgot his place before God as a son in the family and as a brother. Let us consider him and do likewise.

Yank Fliers and Subs Blast Jap Ships In Battles for Supremacy in Pacific; Rubber Czar Speeds Synthetic Output; Fuel Oil Rationing Covers Thirty States

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

William M. Jeffers (right), newly appointed rubber administrator, confers with War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson concerning problems to be solved in the nation-wide rubber conservation program which he heads. The former president of the Union Pacific railroad called for the co-operation of all Americans in making the program effective.

PACIFIC FRONT:

Jap Ships Smashed

The Japs got a taste of American air and undersea power when aircraft and submarines struck at widely separated points on the far-flung Pacific battlefield and damaged or destroyed 18 enemy ships.

In the Solomon Islands, American bombers attacking the enemy base at Betoka bay, north of the American airfield at Guadalcanal, damaged two cruisers and destroyed vital enemy shore installations.

In the Aleutians heavy army bombers and long range fighters inflicted severe damage. Included in the American score were two mine sweepers sunk, three large cargo vessels damaged, three submarines hit and trapped and "several small craft" damaged. In addition the U. S. raiders set fire to storehouses and supply dumps ashore, destroyed six enemy planes and killed or wounded approximately 500 Jap troops.

Elsewhere in the far western Pacific, submarines sank four ships and damaged four others. The successful attacks on these eight ships raised to 107 the total of Japanese vessels of all types which the navy has reported sunk or damaged by American submarine attacks since the outbreak of war.

FUEL OIL RATIONING:

Forecasts 65 Degrees

Home owners in the 20 eastern and midwestern states affected by the WPD's fuel oil rationing order were told by Price Administrator Leon Henderson that domestic allotments would be pegged to a daytime temperature of 65 degrees under average weather conditions.

Approximately 3,146,000 oil-burning residential units in the rationed area will be affected by the order. The plan is designed to reduce consumption 25 per cent in the designated area.

Mr. Henderson said the amount of oil allowed each heating unit would be based largely on the floor space and the amount of fuel used last year. In order to obtain coupon rationing sheets, householders will be required to furnish local rationing boards with detailed information concerning the dwelling and furnace.

DRAFT:

Fathers or Boys?

Congress was given its choice between drafting 1,500,000 youths of 18 and 19 years of age or the same number of married men with dependent families by Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director.

In a statement before the house committee investigating national defense migration, Hershey said: "We are going to get 18 or 19-year-olds, or 1,500,000 men out of the family." He added that the war department has certain reasons for wanting younger men and that industry would be disturbed less by taking the youths.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news . . .

LONDON: Home guards throughout England are to have live ammunition for training with the weapons they will use in the event of invasion, a war office communiqué said. Within the next few months, millions of rounds of ammunition will be released for rifles, Sten guns, Lewis and Browning machine guns and Spigot mortars with which home guards have been trained.

RUBBER CZAR:

Tough Job Ahead

Blunt, energetic Rubber Administrator William M. Jeffers had a big job on his hands and he knew it. War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson knew it too, for when he announced Jeffers' appointment, he called it "one of the toughest" assignments in the whole war effort.

As recommended by the President's special inquiry committee, Mr. Jeffers was given full authority over every phase of the rubber program. He was charged with reorganizing, consolidating and administering the government's efforts to alleviate the rubber shortage.

One of the new rubber czar's biggest tasks was to drastically step up synthetic rubber production. The report of the President's committee headed by Bernard M. Baruch had noted that there was "grave danger" that construction delays might hold up the present program as much as four months, leaving rubber supplies next year insufficient even for military needs.

Directness was one of the things Jeffers was noted for as president of the Union Pacific railroad. He showed the same approach when he said:

"This means I have a tough job. But it is also a job for all the people of the United States. The biggest stockpile of rubber we have is in the wheels of our automobiles. I ask every motorist, every truck driver, everybody who runs a car, to remember that he is now the custodian of a material more precious than gold."

RUSSIA:

Needs Second Front

As the news from Russian battle sectors had become gloomier, the increasing necessity of an Anglo-American second front in western Europe to take the pressure off the battered Red armies and thus avoid complete disaster was urged by Soviet military experts in London.

Although the eleventh-hour arrival of thousands of crack Siberian troops at Stalingrad had enabled the Reds to throw fresh reserves against Marshal Von Boek's Nazi legions, the over-all picture remained gloomy. The need for a diversion elsewhere appeared as pressing as ever.

Soviet representatives in London were said to believe that Allied invasion of western Europe would draw 30 to 40 German divisions away from the Russian front.

Meanwhile as massed squadrons of the RAF had continued their smashes at German industrial centers in a "softening up" drive, Production Minister Oliver Lyttelton declared:

"We are approaching the breathless moment when, if Russia holds a few more weeks, the gathering forces of the greatest alliance the world has ever seen will give us the first evidences of victory."

Captain Lyttelton had predicted in July that the next 60 days would be the war's gravest.

LABOR DRAFT:

Looms for Millions

Approximately 18,000,000 Americans faced the possibility of being shifted, hired or replaced, as Paul V. McNutt, war manpower director, told congress that the national labor shortage is becoming so acute that compulsory home front service for both men and women appears inevitable.

McNutt said the nation must find 4,000,000 new workers between now and 1943 and that a large number necessarily must come from the ranks of women and of men either too old or too young for military service.

There were 57,000,000 persons employed in June, 1942, he said, and between 62,500,000 and 65,000,000 will be needed by December, 1943. There is no "evidence," he added, that labor reserves—including women, Negroes and other minority groups—would prove adequate.

The manpower chief said he believed "the mere existence of statutory power to force an individual to serve where he is needed" would be all that is necessary to establish a system of labor allocation that would help meet the problem.

FARM MACHINERY:

On Ration List

New farm machinery and equipment went on the rationed list when Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard signed an order in Washington. The present order applies to sales for the remainder of 1942. Mr. Wickard said a permanent order would be issued later governing 1943 sales and production.

The curtailment program was made necessary by military requirements, the secretary added.

"The temporary rationing system for 1942," he said, "is designed primarily to control the distribution of the limited supply of farm machinery and equipment now on hand and to assure its greatest possible contribution toward meeting the goals of our food-for-freedom program."

BRAZIL:

War in Earnest

Brazil showed that it meant business in its war against the Axis when President Getulio Vargas ordered general mobilization. With a population of 41,000,000, this nation represented the largest source of untapped military power in the Western hemisphere.

President Vargas' military decree ordered all Brazilians to take home defense training. It instructed the government ministers and all other federal, state and municipal agencies to take measures dealing with military, economic, scientific and labor measures necessary to defense.

Already in force was compulsory military service for males between the ages of 21 and 45. Men between the ages of 21 and 30 were placed in the "first line" with all others placed in the "second line." Action against Axis submarines was being steadily taken by the Brazilian air force. Intervention of Axis fifth-columnists had been accomplished, and Axis-owned banks, insurance companies and other enterprises had been closed.

MORE CHICKENS:

To Supplement Meat

More chickens in every pot were forecast when Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard called on poultry raisers to produce 200,000,000 extra fowl this fall and winter to help counteract a prospective meat shortage for civilian use.

National poultry organizations estimated that 600,000,000 additional pounds of poultry could be produced for consumers if 200,000,000 birds were reared to a weight of three pounds each. Secretary Wickard was assured that poultrymen and farmers, utilizing existing broiler houses and other production equipment not normally used to capacity during the season would participate in the program.

MIDWAY AFTERMATH:

Taps for Yorktown

Part of the price America paid for victory over the Japs in the Battle of Midway became known when the navy announced that the aircraft carrier Yorktown had been sunk after the battle as a result of Japanese bombs and torpedo attacks.

Although it had been known that the 10,900 ton carrier was put out of action during the battle, the actual loss of the vessel had been a closely kept secret.

Lace Makes Lovely, Dignified Midseason Suits and Dresses

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

KEEPING women attractively and suitably appressed with minimum yardage and maximum good taste and ingenuity is the responsibility which rests with designers in these momentous times. Realizing that the "feminine touch" is a part of every woman's duty to her country, those to whom the task of timely costume design has been entrusted turn to lace as a wonderfully effective weapon when it comes to combatting the tenseness war brings on and maintaining a high morale front. Then, too, lace is non-priority, which counts greatly in favor of its use.

That dress-up call which comes to women after they have spent hours and hours in war service, as so many thousands are doing these days, is being perfectly answered not only by gowns made of lovely lace but by the newest gesture, the suit-dress tailored of lace. See the "full-dress" jacket dress of black celanese lace shown to the left in the above illustration. You'll be ready for every occasion with a stunning twosome like this in your wardrobe collection. One of the nice things about celanese lace is its fine sheen and choice silken look.

It adds swank to this costume that the jacket is well cut on the longer lines so smartly in fashion this season. Self-lace covered buttons add to the fine finish of this charming outfit. The sleeves are long and snug to make them perfect for the long or short colored gloves which add dash to black lace. There's always a ladylike about long sleeves. The dress has a discretely flared skirt which flatters the figure. This ensemble is completely smart and in good taste for the street, restaurant or for dancing. The hat with its cunning lace trim is a masterpiece in economy as it dips subtly over the brow and swings high to the back.

Two romantic fabrics are combined in the charming dress pictured to the right. For this attractive dress black lace is used with black crepe. This disarmingly lovely afternoon costume would decorate any scene to good advantage. The slim skirt is knife pleated for added interest. The rather tailored jacket is nevertheless dressy because of the mere fact that it is lace. The long, narrow sleeves are edged with the black crepe, as the collar and closing are bound in the crepe, cardigan style. There are two large patch pockets.

There's an exquisite about sheerest of sheer black Chantilly lace which always carries an aristocratic air born of years of high style prestige. Chantilly lace will ever and always continue to give that wonderful feeling of assurance only the best can give. Pictured in the inset is a blouse of patrician black Chantilly lace such as never fails to perfectly complement feminine beauty. A blouse of this type will prove a most treasured possession. They carry these black lace charms in almost any important blouse department or specialty shop. If you know how to sew, the making of the blouse is simple, and remnants of perfectly exquisite lace are often available at prices to fit low budgets. When this lace fantasy is completed, you'll find it a priceless possession.

As to lace accessories, you can get adorable little calotes to wear back of your pompadour, also an assortment of lace mantillas, lace gloves, long or short. The climax is reached in tiny lace butterfly mounted to wear as earrings.

Pastel Plaid

Choose for your fall casual coat a plaid wool in soft pastel coloring. This is a coat that college girls adore and young matrons find utterly to their liking. The colors are so blended they "go with" everything. The tuxedo collar is excellent style, and the slashed pockets are a practical detail. The beret is especially a "conversation piece," for fashion's stamp of approval is affixed to berets in accents bold and clear. They are not only showing berets in conservative dimensions, but the huge beret either in felt or velvet registers as a "fashion-first" timed for immediate wear with summer and midseason frocks. Some of the new, large berets are dramatically feathered or strikingly and picturesquely quill-trimmed.

Less Formal Wedding
Dresses Can Be Pretty

The many marriages taking place at a "moment's notice," so to speak, because of limited furloughs for those in service and other circumstances of war, are bringing about a trend to practicality in the matter of simple ceremony. In consequence, many brides are giving up the idea of an elaborate wedding gown, preferring a simple frock or suit which will be wearable for various occasions later.

Summer brides who cling to the idea of white are looking lovely in dainty organdies or marquisettes which can double after the wedding for party wear. The suit of bengaline lavished with white, frilly neckwear and other snowy detail is the choice of many a bride who needs must do away with formality.

Decorative

Charming are the picturesque snoods which young girls are wearing this summer. There simply is no limit to the decorative detail being lavished on these cunning head coverings. An unusually attractive snood is made of red ribbon latticed and tied with myriads of wee bows, with gay felt flowers clustered about the lower section at the nape of the neck.

Watchdog Neglects to Guard His Master's Car

MATTAPAN, MASS.—Folango, a Great Dane of 140 pounds, proved false to his master, Francis E. Daldarin of Mattapan when he permitted a 10-year-old escaped inmate of the Shirley School to steal the automobile which he was guarding and race it through the streets of Charlestown.

When, after a wild chase, the police caught up with the youth, who had wrecked the car, he was calm about his detection and arrest. But the dog, bigger than the driver, was erling with fear in the rear of the car.

The youth, according to police, has been returned to Shirley.

and Electric Lighting
in Northern Illinois

In America's super-production of war implements, speed and precision are achieved with the aid of modern scientific lighting—in the drafting room—in the machine shop—on the production and inspection lines.

Here in Northern Illinois, now a great war-factory of the nation, good lighting is a prime factor in accelerating production and reducing waste, in helping to maintain efficiency and welfare of workers—every day, every night.

Designs for good lighting and methods of obtaining it have always been a part of our service to industries. Today, when so much depends on the nation's industrial success, correct lighting is more important than ever.

Lighting designed for close-seeing on the assembly line helps maintain the efficiency of workers, reduces errors and waste.

Draftsmen using their eyes for long periods find that fluorescent lighting effectively shielded to prevent glare, reduces eyestrain and fatigue.

Sequoits Lose Opening Game to McHenry, 6-0

(By Howard Hageman) The Antioch Sequoits met McHenry at McHenry last Friday night in a 6-0 defeat. It was a hard fought game all the way through, but in the third quarter McHenry completed a pass on Antioch's 5 yard line. Three downs later they were over for a touchdown. The lack of experience and early season contributed to the defeat of the local boys. Coach Wolfenbarger was satisfied with the game, in spite of the mental errors made by the boys. He hopes they will profit by their errors. In the first quarter Antioch's power plays were working well and after 4 first downs, their drive was ended by a fumble. Throughout the game the blocking and tackling was poor and the line gave little support to the backfield.

One of the high lights of the game was a McHenry pass intercepted by Joe Nader, Antioch's center, with which he ran back about 35 yards. Also exciting was an Antioch pass from Fields, completed by Dressel in the fourth quarter.

Coach Wolfenbarger feels the boys have gained valuable experience from their first non-conference game in the season. He is unwilling to forecast the results of the coming game with Warren Friday, Sept. 25, but he assures Warren fans that they can expect a good game from the Antioch preps.

The starting lineup of last Friday's game was: L. E.—D. Barnstable; L. T.—B. Effinger; L. G.—T. Mapletorpe; C.—J. Nader; R. G.—L. Yopp; R. T.—M. Wozniak; K.—C. Dressel; Q. B.—J. Fields; R. H.—E. Brixen; L. H.—S. Klass; E. B.—B. Mapletorpe.
